

Blessing of Appreciation for People of Different Identities within Our Synagogue

By Rabbi Maurice Harris – Rabbi / Senior Educator, InterfaithFamily

Optional Hebrew opening can be chanted to a typical Mi Sheberach tune or read aloud:

מְקוֹר הַבְּרָכָה לְאִמוּתֵינוּ וְאִבוּתֵינוּ
הִיא תְּבַרַךְ אֶת כָּל הָאֲנָשִׁים מְדַתוֹת
שׁוֹנוֹת
שְׂדָבְקוּ בְּקִהְלָה הַזֹּאת תַּחַת כְּנָפֵי
הַשְּׂכִינָה

Feminine God-language

מִי שְׂבִרַךְ אִבוּתֵינוּ וְאִמוּתֵינוּ
הוּא יְבָרַךְ אֶת כָּל הָאֲנָשִׁים מְדַתוֹת
שׁוֹנוֹת
שְׂדָבְקוּ בְּקִהְלָה הַזֹּאת תַּחַת כְּנָפֵי
הַשְּׂכִינָה

May the One who blessed our ancestors before us
Bless all those of different faiths and identities
Who contribute to the life of this synagogue;
Who give of their time and their hearts;
Who help bring Judaism to life for all of us
and for the next generation;
Who volunteer and serve this community
in ways seen and unseen;
And who give the gifts of love and support to their Jewish partners and family members.
We give thanks to them and to You, Source of Life.
Since ancient times people of other religions and nations have been part of the Jewish community, helping us face our challenges and deepen our sense of purpose.

And now today, the Jewish people are blessed with the loving, patient, and generous participation and care of people of various traditions and beliefs.
Holy One, please bless them to find acceptance, appreciation, and joy here in this synagogue.
And during life's sorrows may they know they can take refuge among us,
under the Wings of your Protection.
May they know that they are immeasurably valued just as they are.
May the works of their hands be blessed with much success, and may they walk the paths of peace along with their sisters and brothers in the Household of Israel and the wider human family.
And let us say, Amen.
